BARNEY GLAZER'S HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood, Calif. — We stopped at Mary Markham's and Ross Martin's table in the Coconut Grove on George Gobel's opening night. During an animated conversation, this department's active speaking-hand knocked over a glass of water and thoroughly soaked Ross' lap. Martin's enthusiasm for this column should have been dampened forever but he insisted he was as indestructible as an old sponge and begged us not to be embarrassed. But we were.

Two days later, we received the following letter from Ross, star of television's "Mr. Lucky" and "Stump the Stars":

"Dear Barney — I hope you've stopped worrying about the water incident. I checked it out and it does NOT count as a baptism unless accompanied by appropriate prayers. Both Rabbi Edgar Magnin of Wilshire Temple and my beloved mother say I'm still Jewish."

Life Magazine was short-lived in its recent review of this nation's travelling theatre companies. Life named the U.C.L.A. Theatre Group as the southwest's only travelling theatre, whereas actually the Bruins have never travelled. On the other hand, the magazine survey completely failed to credit Corey Allen and his Freeway Circuit, Inc., the first and only professional touring company in the southwest's legitimate theatre program. The Freeway Theatre has produced nine professional plays in its three-year exist-

As Sid and Stanley campaign is one of the album's lively tunes, and we heartily agree after too many years of "Hanhukah" in our modernized revision, "Let's Put the 'Ch' Back in Chanukah." How merrily that "Ch" rattles in their dedicated orthodox throats!

The life story of Israel's war hero Mickey Marcus will be filmed by MGM Studios.

Isaac Stern, one of the most renowned of violin virtuosos, once said that when Jack Benny walks on the concert stage in full evening dress and carrying his priceless Stradivarius, he looks like the greatest musician in the world. Added Stern, "It's a shame he has to play."

"Chanukah Carols" recaptures the warmth of a fast-disappearing era when chicken soup was queen and potato kugel was the staff of life. Instead of "Jingle Bells," we have "Matzoh Balls" and instead of Tiny Tim we are exposed to his true identity — "Tiny Hotelle." For this Chanukah and Chanukah's to come, listen to this album and enjoy, enjoy.

Sid Wayne has written songs for five Elvis Presley movies while acting as musical director at CBS for daytime game shows. In association with TV producer-director Robert Quigley, Wayne was responsible as a comedy writer for some of the funniest moments on "The Victor Borge Show," "Peter Hayes" and Mary Healy, "Shenanigans" and others.

Following the successful opening of the Israel Histadrut Campaign in Winnipeg December 12 and 13 when both canvassers and representatives of the United Folks Organizations met with Jacob Egit of Toronto to finalize plans and to distribute cards, workers and committee members alike have been preparing for the first local conference in two years, and for the first exclusively midwest regional conference scheduled for Regina.

General chairman Ronald Slater in announcing plans for the Winnipeg Conference reported that it will be opened Saturday evening, Jan. 5, with a reception at the Independent B'nai Abraham Synagogue for UJFO and campaign canvassers. Programmed in the form of a Milava Malka, featured will be Cantor David Boroditsky and the music of the Jewish Community Orchestra under the direction of Jascha Resnitsky, with soloist Leon Bell, and Marjorie Jacobson at the piano.

Conference workshops and seminars to be chaired by A. M. Israels, Q.C., will be launched at a breakfast meeting Sunday morning, Jan. 6, at 9 p.m. at the Peretz School when Dr. Sol Stein, national director of the National Committee for Labor Israel of America will lead the orientation sessions for participants in the 1963 campaign.

Dr. Stein was director of the Jewish National Fund in Philadelphia for 19 years and had been JNF director for five years in Belgium prior to that.

Born in Vilna, he taught in the Tarbut schools there until 1925, when he went to study economics in Belgium. After gaining a doctorate at the University of Ghent, he continued his activities in the Labor

State of Israel in Toronto, spoke of Israel's achievements and the tasks which lie ahead, particularly in the Negev.

Joseph H. Shoctor, Q.C., chairman of the western region of the Zionist Organization of Canada, presented an illuminated scroll to Mr. Rudolph on behalf of the Edmonton Jewish community and the Jewish National Fund of Canada. George Levine was dinner chairman.

Edmonton (Special) — The largest crowd in the history of Negev Dinners here paid tribute to Louis Rudolph, December 9, for 25 years of service to the Jewish community.

In addition to his position as president of the Zionist Council, Mr. Rudolph has been a leader in the Edmonton Talmud Torah, the Beth Israel Congregation and the Edmonton Jewish Community Council. Eliezer Dembitz, consul of the

Born in Vilna, he taught in the Tarbut schools there until 1925, when he went to study economics in Belgium. After gaining a doctorate at the University of Ghent, he continued his activities in the Labor

Zionist movements in Poland and Belgium, editing Franco-Yiddish papers in the latter country. In America he has written and lectured widely on the economics problems of Israel, America and Russia. For a number of years he served on the Central Committee of the Labor Zionist Organization of America and has headed its American Affairs Committee.

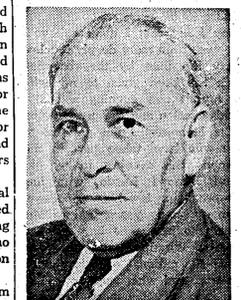

Sunday evening the traditional campaign banquet will be addressed by one of America's most exciting personalities, Julius Ginsberg, who last visited Winnipeg in 1957 on behalf of the Israel Bond Drive.

Mr. Ginsberg, who hails from Chicago, brings to Jewish audiences across America a sharp analytic approach to its problems; to its relationship and responsibilities to the State of Israel. A respected leader in his own community, he has served in many capacities during the last half century, having been chairman of the United Jewish Appeal, the Israel Bond Drive, and for 12 years chairman of the Histadrut Campaign.

A long time Labour Zionist, trade union organizer and leader, he is equally respected by the industrial community as a leading women's wear manufacturer.

A sparkling and powerful orator in both English and Yiddish, he has literally captivated hundreds of audiences in United States and Canada.

Bringing the sense of Simcha to the banquet will be entertainment featuring Miriam Breitenman, western Canada's leading exponent of the art of folk singing. She will be accompanied by Clara Pearlman-Litvack who has played for every major star and who scored when she played for Moshe Koussevitzky
