

Dr. Goldmann, in his address, said that while Israel's security situation has improved appreciably as result of the destruction of a large portion of Egypt's fighting power, the political situation which has led to the military action of the past few weeks remains unresolved, plagued by uncertainty and pregnant with peril.

Emphasizing that "the decisive factor will be the position of the United States of America," Dr. Goldmann charged that "it is unfortunate that on all essential questions of a definitive settlement between Israel and the Arab states, American policy is lacking in clarity and consistency and firmness." He maintained that "this situation invites the Soviet bloc and Asian-African friends of the Arabs to jockey for position and move into the vacuum created by American vacillation." He stressed the need for the millions of American friends of Israel, both Jews and non-Jews, to comprehend this danger and to bend all their efforts to prevent the success of pro-Arab strategems in the United Nations."

New York—An Arab honor student at the Hebrew University-Hadassah Medical School of Jerusalem, has been awarded the second annual Judah L. Magnes Scholarship, it was announced here by James Marshall, president of the Judah L. Magnes Foundation, Inc.

Mr. Marshall, who is also chairman of the Board of Directors of the American Friends of the Hebrew University, disclosed that the recipient is Sami Amin Yousef, now in his junior year of study at the Israel medical school. Mr. Yousef, who placed first in a competition entered into by 280 medical applicants upon his matriculation at the University two years ago, has maintained a high scholastic record throughout his collegiate career. He hails from the Arab village of Rama, in Israel, where he makes his home with his widowed mother and seven brothers and sisters.

The Hebrew University, which has an enrollment of 4,000, including 100 Arab and Druze students, is now building classrooms and laboratories on a new campus site at Givat Ram, Jerusalem, to replace its original facilities on Mt. Scopus to which it has been denied access since 1948.

Ideological Crisis In Mapam

TEL AVIV (ZINS) — A serious ideological crisis has developed in Mapam as a result of Russia's anti-Israel policy. The Communist oriented Mapam, a government coalition party was deeply shaken by the Russian attitude in the present crisis. Meir Yaari, top leader of Mapam was compelled to publish a lengthy article in the party organ "Al-Hamishmar" defending the allegiance of Mapam to the "world of socialism" despite the regrettable behavior of the "country of socialism."

The changes in Russia's relations with her East European satellites has influenced the thinking of many Mapam followers who see in the recent developments in Hungary and Poland a complete disintegration of their "socialistic world." Warning against these tendencies of his own followers, Mr. Yaari writes that "the people who argue for freedom, who demand freedom in Hungary are in fact demanding freedom from socialism."

Your budget, too, will determine what type fuel and heating unit you choose. Consider carefully the physical labor involved, costs of maintenance, ease of waste disposal and cleanliness of fuel.

Remember . . . Winnipeg's cold climate has sharpened the acumen of our heating engineers; resulted in the innovation of many fine heating ideas and units here. In Winnipeg, the home-owner has the world's finest testing ground for good heating equipment.
