The Secret of Success

Who achieves success, and how? First, by always introducing something real new. Secondly, by studying the taste of the people. Thirdly, never to stop before obstacles, never to fear hard work, or expense. All these have been followed out to the letter by the management of the Jewish Orphanage, when it undertook to present to the people of Winnipeg, the stupendous production of ELIJAH, a 5 act historical mystery drama. This play is something entirely new and altogether different from anything seen so far. It entailed a lot of work, it required the commanding of every available talent in the city. A great deal of engineering had to be undertaken, in order to carry out every detail of the play, as designed by the author. There is music, scenery, Oriental Ballet dancing. There is a world of charm as well as interest in every line of the play, for it belongs to the pen of one of the foremost Jewish writers. There is a symbolism in "ELIJAH" that grips the spectator from the moment the curtain rises until it falls. ELIJAH will be produced here, in our city, on Wednesday, March 8th at the Playhouse Theatre by the kiddies of the Jewish Orphanage, under the personal direction of the superintendent, A. Osovsky, with the co-operation of M. Gussin Misses Sarah Baker, Felene Zimmerman, Clara Bergart, Mr. and Mrs. D. Lipkin, and others. There is a world of interest as well as amusement in this most wonderful play.

Sylvia Cates Delights Audience At Piano Recital

Scholarship Winner Warmly Received
Sylvia Cates drew a large audience to the Winnipeg Auditorium last Monday night to hear her piano recital. Miss Cates, who is the winner of the Associated Board piano scholarship clearly showed that she is a talented and intelligent student with a good sense of rhythm and ability to offer inspired interpretation. She gave a finely thought out performance of the Chopin Etude, Opus 25 No. 2 and the Fantaisie in F. Minor beautiful throughout. Her most brilliant playing came in Glazounov "Theme et Variations." The assisting performers, a string orchestra conducted by W. George Rutherford, and Winona Lightcap, soprano, met with a warm welcome from their hearers. Miss Lightcap's sustaining of the full arch of her phrases in Mozart and her bringing home the sense of the verse in Haydn's "She Never Told Her Love" were a delight. Leonard Heaton played complete sympathetic accompaniments.
