Jewish Post N.Y. Correspondent

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz, more years of good living for the old gent. . . .

The very Orthodox is extremely worried about curses and evil eye for the Talmud teaches that many have died because of a curse or the casting of an evil eye. Last week, a very pious Yeshiva student bumped into an elderly Jewish woman on Orchard Street and the old lady shouted "gay in d'rend arain mitn kop," which means "go beneath the earth with your head," a longer way of saying drop dead.

and then, who would suspect that the Bible he is buying was stolen? . . . We can tell you for sure that Israeli TV is just around the corner. Some fellas in the know have already arrived here to learn the tricks of the television industry.

A new fund raising idea being used by a national Jewish philanthropic group. They now call the would-be donors "Long-distance" and nine out of ten times, when a charitable group spends $5 on a call to get $20 from you, you won't refuse. . . . Israel manufacturing talking dolls that can say "Shalom" the Sabra way. . . . Matzo factories working full blast to have their products on the market on time.

Arab leaders know that in order to achieve full unity they must get Syria to cooperate. Syria however wants unity on its own terms. As soon as the new Iraqi regime took over, Syria sent over two representatives with good will messages.
