BARNEY GLAZER'S HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood, Calif. — When Jerry Rosen, actors' agent, recently suffered a heart attack, many of the stars whom Jerry had helped to elevate from nothingness deserted him like rats scampering from a sinking ship and sought out other agents. However, Jerry's ship wasn't about to sink. His wife, Lynn, pitched in both at home and at Jerry's Beverly Hills office with amazing results. Their son, Michael, also helped tremendously.

Jerry is back at work again. Two things helped him recover quickly. First, Victor Buono, one of his clients who had just been nominated for an Oscar for his supporting actor work in "What Ever Happened to Baby Jane?", assured Jerry he would stick to him no matter how long his recovery would take. Secondly, Keith Andes, who had just severed his agency relationship, visited Jerry at his home and asked the beloved agent to represent him, realizing fully that it might take a long time before his first job would be forthcoming.

Jerry Rosen has always believed that there is brotherhood within all religions, and that we all have the same basic feelings. Buono and Andes proved that Jerry is so right. Each year, the Rosens invite people of various religions to share Passover in their home. "That way," explained Jerry, "we learn about their faith and they acquaint themselves with ours."

Last year, the Rosens played Passover hosts to Victor Buono and his family. They are Catholics. By the bye, this column was written prior to the Academy Awards so you know by this reading time if Buono won the coveted trophy. For one, I certainly hope so. He deserves every blessing that may come his way for his loyalty and gratitude.

Rosen said his "Brotherhood of Religion" program was the result of an incident in New York City about 15 years ago when he was saying Kadish. He was late and realized he could never reach the synagogue in time. "I walked into a Catholic Church," recalled the agent "and explained my predicament to the priest. I'll never forget what happened. I was astonished. The priest said the Hebrew prayer with me word for word!"

Rosen sincerely believes in charity. He said, "Being charitable to others is one of the great teachings of the Jewish religion." He backs up his belief several times a year during Jewish holidays by staging a show for the prisoners at Chino, Calif.

In 1961, the inmates presented Jerry with a well deserved citation and painting to show their appreciation.

JOEY BISHOP and I discussed our musical love — the mandolin. Joey admitted he doesn't read music. "I fish around until I find the right note," said the sad-faced television and night club star. "I classify it as a digit and that's how I play — not by notes, but by numbers."

I asked, "When you play a nightclub, such as the Coconut Grove, who tunes your mandolin?" He advised that a member of the club's orchestra always obliges. "What if a string would break during your performance?" I inquired. "I wish it would," said Bishop drily. "I could use it for laughs."

Western Z.O.C. Conference Slated

Calgary — Almost on the eve of the fifteenth anniversary of the State of Israel, communal leaders from Alberta and Saskatchewan headed by a group of national and international figures will convene at the Palliser Hotel April 27-28 in Calgary to consider the "problems of the sixties" at the annual western regional conference of the Zionist Organization of Canada.

The conference program, aside from setting the tone for 1963 United Jewish Appeal's greater needs in the western region, will be highlighted by national president Joseph Frank's keynote luncheon address on Sunday, April 28 — "The Realities of Canadian Zionism Today" — which hopes to draw a blueprint of action to deal with the responsibilities faced by Canadian Zionists.

The Regional Conference will commemorate the fifteenth anniversary of the State of Israel with a "Salute to Israel" program at a reception Saturday at 9 p.m. in the Penthouse of the Palliser honoring distinguished guests which will include Mr. Frank, Woolf Perry, deputy chairman of the world Keren Hayesod, and Sol D. Granek, national director of United Israel Appeal in Canada.

Morris Hector of Calgary, regional vice-chairman, will officially open the conference Sunday at 9 p.m. in the East Room of the Palliser. Local greetings will be given by Saul Koschitzky, president of Calgary's Zionist Council; Mrs. Clarice Chodak, president of Federation of Women's Organizations of Community Council and Aaron Eichler, president of B'nai B'rith.

Following annual reports by regional chairman Joseph Shoctor, Q.C., of Edmonton, and Maxwell Rosen, executive director of the region, Mr. Granek will address the delegates on "Zionism — Its Background and Its Implications."

The Sunday luncheon, at which Mr. Frank will give the keynote speech, will be chaired by Sam Promislow, national vice-president of Regina. Wolfe Margolus, national vice-president of Edmonton, will make the introduction, and Ernest Bricker, regional vice-chairman of Saskatoon, will respond.

Sunday afternoon will be devoted to fundraising and good and welfare. Norman Ratner, regional vice-chairman of Regina, will chair the fundraising session on the United Israel Appeal and Mr. Perry will give the major address. Community UJA reports and presentations of UJA cheques will be made.

The conference program will be climaxed by a Calgary UJA banquet in the evening at the Jewish Community Centre.

Now KLM offers you two jetliner services a week from Amsterdam to Tel Aviv

1. KLM has had longer than any other airline to perfect its reliability—44 years. Significant fact: KLM was the first airline in the world to use metal propellers, air-cooled engines and aircraft powered with turbo-compound engines. These are just a few of the reasons why KLM has always had a good reputation among other airlines for its technical record.

2. KLM has a variety of tours to Israel and Europe. You can also include Amsterdam and Israel on your KLM round-the-world tour. Practical suggestion: KLM is used to taking specially good care of youngsters. Why not give your son a Bar Mitzva tour of Israel and Europe, via KLM?

KLM is happy to arrange for your relatives in Europe and Israel to fly to Canada at your expense. You can pay the fare here and KLM will issue the ticket overseas. KLM's multi-lingual personnel both at the airport and in the aircraft pay special personal attention to elderly people.

4. Group travel can provide substantial savings in air fares. If you take advantage of the special reductions granted to groups of 25 or more travelling together, you can realize savings that are so great that they will enable group members to prolong their stay abroad and allow them additional funds for shopping and entertainment. KLM group travel air fare, Montreal—Tel Aviv, $568.70 economy class return by jet. Eligibility for group fares is readily established. Ask your Travel Agent or KLM for complete information.

5. KLM chefs cater for special types of food. You can get Kosher food on board KLM aircraft if you so request when making your reservations. Point worth noting: As a KLM passenger, you can be met at

Tel Aviv airport upon arrival by your special "KLM Friend in Israel".

6. Amsterdam is well worth a visit. When you are there, you'll see many Jewish places of interest, such as the Anne Frank House, the Jewish Historical Museum, and the famous Portuguese Israelitic Synagogue. From Amsterdam there are many good connections to Israel. Complete and mail the attached coupon for the informative KLM booklet: "Jewish Life in Amsterdam".

7. During the peak Summer season, KLM offers you the choice of 6 DC-8 jet and 3 DC-7C propeller flights a week out of Montreal and three daily jets from New York to Amsterdam. With careful planning, you can now jet all the way to Tel Aviv.

8. KLM's Fly-Now-Pay-Later Plan permits you to fly now at a low down payment and offers you many months to pay the balance. In addition to covering your roundtrip ticket, it can also be used for all-inclusive tours, hotels and sightseeing. Only 10% down. Ask your Travel Agent or KLM for complete details.
