ing the possessions of all Arabs who fled across the borders during the war. May I be permitted to quote what the Rev. William Hull of the Zion Christian Mission has written in Christian News from Israel of Dec. 22, 1949?

Israel cannot be as bad as Miss Thompson wants us to believe. In conclusion, I should like to discuss what Miss Thompson condemns as Israel's failure to live up to the United Nations partition plan.

Moreover, Miss Thompson errs in saying that the port of Haifa was not awarded to Israel by the United Nations. The fact is that the boundaries of Israel, according to the original partition plan, included both this city and its ports.—O.S.

SENATOR YULEE LEVY (Cont. from page 40) But since his father had to go into trade, he didn't want to sully the princely name; he merely adopted his mother's surname Levy as more suitable for a business career.

the reinstatement of the princely Yulee. Services to the Confederacy On the next election, Yulee was defeated; but elected in 1856 for a second term.

served in the Southern Congress, but without distinction. After the defeat of the Confederacy, the Governor of Florida appointed Yulee on a commission to proceed to Washington and have his state peacefully reconstructed into the Federal Union.

The Railroad Builder Ex-Senator Yulee now retired from public life and devoted all his energies in rehabilitating the Florida Railway system, of which he was president. It is a tribute to Yulee's persuasive talents that on the eve of the Civil War, he was able to induce northern capital to invest $5,000,000, a large sum for those days, in a prospective Florida railroad.
