Anti-Zionism - New Anti-Semitism

By ROBERT GORDIS
[Rabbi Gordis is Professor of Bible at the Jewish Theological Seminary and Visiting Professor of Religion at Temple University. His latest books are Leave a Little to God and Sex and the Family in the Jewish Tradition.]

Jewish men, women and children carried out while the free world stood by passive and unconcerned, has been the official demise of anti-Semitism. There are no anti-Semites left in the world today! Anti-Semitism is no longer respectable, on either side of the Iron Curtain. Stalin's brutal campaign against Russian Jewry was an attack only on "cosmopolitans" and "Zionists." Did not the Soviet constitution guarantee freedom of religion to all its inhabitants? That the number of synagogues in Russia was shrinking to the vanishing point, that no Jewish schools were permitted, that no seminary or yeshiva for rabbis and other religious leaders existed, that no Hebrew books were printed, that Jews attending the synagogue were under surveillance, all this was purely accidental. After Stalin's downfall, the more brutal aspects of anti-Jewish persecution died down. Jewish doctors were no longer accused of poisoning their patients and a few Yiddish writers, who had been shot, were rehabilitated. But in all other fundamentals, the persecution of Russian Jewry has continued unabated. It is not anti-Semitism, only "anti-Zionism." Thus Russian Jews are forbidden to establish any ties with the State of Israel, because it runs counter to Russian foreign policy, which is anti-Zionist, but never, never "anti-Semitic." Ever since the establishment of the State of Israel, France has been among her staunchest and most loyal of friends. It was a bitter shock to discover, when Nasser began his campaign to strangle Israel last May which ended in the extraordinary Israeli victory in June, that the Gaullist government first remained silent and then overtly defended the Arab position against Israeli "aggression." Recently, General de Gaulle, in his one-man campaign against the world, delivered himself of an address in which he attacked the Jews as being "at all times an elite people, sure of itself and dominating." French Jews, with rare courage and dignity, did not hesitate to brand the aged and senile chief of the French State as an anti-Semite. Perhaps the most telling rejoinder was a cartoon published in the French newspaper Le Monde, which does not usually publish cartoons. The well-known political cartoonist T.I.M. shows a man dressed like a prisoner in a World War concentration camp with the Star of David
